THE LORD BOND ROBBERY.

CONCLUSION OF THE EXAMINATION—BELLEN HELD TO BAIL IN THE SUM OF $20,000-RABCOCK COM-MITTER WITHOUT BAIL.

Yesterday the examination in the case of Frank illen, the banker and broker of No. 9 Wallet., and William R. Babcock, who were arrested for having disposed of some of ORK DAILY TRIBUNE, SATURDAY, DECEMBER 1, 1866. d bought the bonds from Babcock, with a guilty knowledge; es if he knew that Beboock had received the bonds from stee, and Rabcock had told him that Coffee had stolen them bon the safe of Mr. Lord, still you could not hold him as the ceiver-Babcock was the main who must be held as the review.

Mr. Algernon S. Sullivan followed at length.
The magistrate stated that the Lord robbery was admitted, the stolen bopds were found in Washington; after Mr. Hellen's arrest he made a statement, this he contradicted on the following day, he stated that he had purchased a certain amount from one Babcock, who had told him that he had from $400,000 to $500,000 more of the bonds to dispose of, the per centage to be paid Mr. Hellen was enormous much beyond the street rate; this alone should have been sufficient to arouse his suspicion. Se would hold fielden to bail in the sum of $20,000, and would commit Babcock without bail, to await a trial.

The counsel of Hellen stated that they had not at the present time surety for Hellen in the amount required but would furnish it by to-day. The magistrate stated that hall would be received at any time.

A STORY OF WESTERN LIPE, INDIAN AND DOMESTIC. that this will newly prove the worth of the pen that in s

A true Indian novel is among the rarities of latter-day fletion, and the pioneer life of the West, abounding, as it does, in inde but rich material for the work of the novelist, has found, of late, but fow faithful delinearors. It is not too dined to say that few Americans have been so near to the American people in their homestead life and characters as settlers and pioneers, as the author of Mc-won-too; few have traveled so far and observed so closely amid the varieties of the Farmer's and Pioneer's life, East and West; and no writer for the daily press has had a keener relish for, or liveler sympathy with, the fresh and free out-door life which enters into the elements of his novel. Mr. Robinson's writings have always been marked by a quaint and direct force; pictures, simple, but graphic, of things as they really are; practical and minute knowledge of the useful and the beautiful as they are some of the featages of a style of word-painting with which the readers of this paper have long been familiar.

The new novel, which will be began the first week in December, will continue during the Spring.

In addition to this, The Wessely Triburae will contain, as usual, features of entertainment, instruction, and variety, surpassing those of any other journal published to benefit the home life of the people, and justify the ever-increasing support which has made it the most widely circulated paper in America. A true Indian novel is among the rarities of latter-day
